

Botanical Name - Crinum asiaticum

Common Name- Poison blub, spider lily

Uses

1. Ornamental plant: Commonly used in gardens for its unique, attractive flowers.
2. Fragrance: The flowers have a pleasant scent and are used for aromatic purposes.
3. Bouquets: Often included in floral arrangements.
4. Landscaping: Used in landscapes to add an exotic appeal.
5. Indoor decor: Grown in pots for interior decoration.
6. Medicinal use: Traditional medicine uses its extracts for treating various ailments.
7. Pain relief: Applied to relieve joint pain and muscle aches.
8. Anti-inflammatory: Extracts are used to reduce inflammation.
9. Skin treatment: Paste made from the plant is applied for wound healing.
10. Antiviral: Certain compounds in the plant show antiviral properties.
11. Antioxidant: The plant contains antioxidants beneficial for health.
12. Fever remedy: Used in folk medicine to reduce fever.
13. Poison treatment: Parts of the plant are used to counteract snake bites in traditional practices.